Privacy Policy

All of the information collected by MillenniumALPHA Global, in the application form or otherwise, is used for maintaining your Account and for the purpose of assessing whether you would be suitable as a Client.

MillenniumALPHA Global has obligations under, and has procedures in place to ensure its compliance with, the Privacy Act 1988 (Commonwealth), as amended from time to time and the AML laws.

Significantly, these include the following:

1. Collecting personal information

In collecting personal information, MillenniumALPHA Global is required to:

- collect only information which is necessary for the purpose described above;
- ensure that collection of the information is by fair and lawful means; and
- take reasonable steps to make you, the individual, aware of why the information is being collected and that you may access the information held by us.

If necessary, MillenniumALPHA Global also collects information on directors of a corporate client or agents or representatives of the Client. MillenniumALPHA Global may be required by law to collect information, such as for taxation purposes or to identify persons who open or operate an account.

MillenniumALPHA Global may take steps to verify information given to it, such as consulting registries, referees, employers or credit agencies. This information will not be disclosed to any other person although MillenniumALPHA Global may disclose this information to its related bodies corporate if you intend to use the services of any of those related bodies corporate.

2. Using the personal information

Once MillenniumALPHA Global has collected the information from you, MillenniumALPHA Global will only use the information for the purposes described above unless you consent otherwise.

Personal information may be disclosed to:

- any person acting on your behalf, including your adviser, accountant, solicitor, executor, attorney or other representative;
- related bodies corporate of MillenniumALPHA Global if you use, or intend to use, services of those other corporations;
- related bodies corporate of the issuer (if that becomes different from MillenniumALPHA Global);
- any organisations to whom MillenniumALPHA Global outsources administrative functions;
- brokers or agents who refer your business to MillenniumALPHA Global (so that we may efficiently exchange information and administer your account);
- regulatory authorities;
- as required or permitted by law or by court order.

This information will not be disclosed to any other person without your consent.

You may access your personal information held by MillenniumALPHA Global (subject to permitted exceptions), by contacting MillenniumALPHA Global. We may charge you for that access.

As MillenniumALPHA Global is obliged by law to take reasonable steps to ensure that the personal information used is accurate, up to date and complete, please inform us immediately if any of the information provided in this Section changes.

3. Retaining personal information

MillenniumALPHA Global has implemented and maintains secure protection of all personal information obtained from misuse, loss, unauthorised access, modification or disclosure.

The information will be destroyed or de-personalised if MillenniumALPHA Global no longer requires the information for the purpose referred to above.

MillenniumALPHA Global has a Privacy Policy which covers our privacy obligations and complain about a breach of the Australian Privacy Principles, how we deal such a complaint, that we how may need to share some of your information with organisations outside Australia, and that we how we may store your information in cloud or other types of networked or electronic storage, which can be accessed from various countries via an internet connection.
